

Government Law Group

Everything's bigger in cyberspace: big data and the Commonwealth

Governments hold a wealth of data. Maximising the public benefit attainable through the use of that data, without sacrificing the private rights of those to whom the information relates, is a challenge that sits at the heart of the big data debate. In this GLG, AGS experts will explore the Commonwealth's forays into big data and unpack the legal risks and opportunities that arise.
